

Letter from the editors

Grant Cooper · Joseph Herrera

Published online: 5 February 2009

© The Author(s) 2009. This article is published with open access at Springerlink.com

We are very excited to announce a new partnership between Current Reviews in Musculoskeletal Medicine (CRMM) and the American Osteopathic College of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation (AOCPRM). The AOCPRM is rapidly growing organization that we are proud to be associated with. One of the primary missions of the AOCPRM is to “stimulate study and to extend knowledge in the field of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation.” This mission overlaps well with CRMM’s mission to stimulate thought and future research in the multi-disciplinary field of musculoskeletal medicine, and to provide timely evidence-based reviews of the standard of care within this field. The partnership between CRMM and AOCPRM will help more medical professionals be exposed to both entities and we believe it will prove to be a productive and synergistic relationship.

Open Access This article is distributed under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution Noncommercial License which permits any noncommercial use, distribution, and reproduction in any medium, provided the original author(s) and source are credited.

---

G. Cooper (✉)

Interventional Spine and Musculoskeletal Medicine, Department of Orthopedics and Rehabilitation Medicine, Beth Israel Medical Center, New York, NY, USA
e-mail: coopergr1@gmail.com

J. Herrera

Department of Rehabilitation, Mount Sinai School of Medicine Interventional Spine and Sports Medicine Division, New York, NY, USA
e-mail: joseph.herrera@mountsinai.org